

Time to introduce "Perism".

Perism is defined as a "democratic government owning all large businesses under a free market money oriented society".

That way the ownership of large businesses and therefore the power is under democratic rule. Medium and small businesses can freely form and remain privately owned.

A free market allows for government businesses to go bankrupt and all their bosses and workers are out of a job due to poor performance. That way the whip is on the bosses of government businesses to perform well. A classic problem in government businesses (who often are politically put there) under socialism, empirically proved.
